

“the city becomes an extended campus”

Faculty from every division of academic study included these place-based learning opportunities in their courses -- from English and History to Accounting and Nursing!

2,417 number of CCC individual visits to museums and theaters in 2017-18 academic year made possible by the Hartford Heritage Project. This number is comprised almost entirely of students, many of whom experienced these places and events as part of courses at the college. That's 73% of enrolled students.

719 number of students who visited the Wadsworth Atheneum

This includes visits to exhibits in the Amistad Center for Art and Culture

83 number of students who visited the Old State House

58 number of students attending tours and events at the Harriet Beecher Stowe Center

255 student visits to the Mark Twain House & Museum

190 number of students attending TheaterWorks performances.

Professors are now making plays at TheaterWorks a regular part of their curriculum.

764 number of tickets sold for Hartford Stage plays – that is about 23% of enrollment